This allows software applications for the iPhone to simulate some of the more unique aspects of physical scratchies. Instead of using a coin or some other tool to uncover your winning matches on a physical scratch card, you can rub your finger across the screen to find out if you have won. Combine that with the advantages of Internet scratchies with advanced sounds and animations, and instantaneous payouts, as well as the unique advantages of mobile phones with their ability to go online in more diverse areas, and you have the perfect mixture for an authentic mobile scratch card experience.
