However, later on multihand video poker games became available. This massively increases your payout potential. With multihand video poker you are dealt the same hand up to 100 times simultaneously. In other words, 100 identical hands appear. As with single hand video poker, you choose which cards to hold and are then dealt replacements for the others. These replacement cards are different for each of the hands. As you can imagine, this vastly increases the number of potential hands you could make. You could end up with 7 trips, 2 flushes, 4 straights etc. You are paid out for each hand you make. When it comes to promotions, Casino.com definitely knows how to make an impression.
