This means that for a $2/$4 limit game, you'll want to have a bankroll of at least $1,200. • In pot limit or no limit cash games, you'll want to have at least 20-30 buy-ins for the level you are playing at. For instance, if you're playing a $1/$2 no limit game with a $200 maximum buy-in, you'll want between $4,000 and $6,000 in your bankroll. • For regular tournament play, you'll want to have somewhere between 50 and 100 buy-ins available to counter the high variance in this form of play. For a $10+$1 tournament regimen, then, you'll want to have at least $550 in your bankroll. Sit and go requirements can be a little lower than this, as they have less variance than larger multi-table tournaments. This generous symbol mostly appears at random, and its main function is substitution, but the only symbols it doesn't always take place of are scatters, free spins icons, or some particular bonus features.
